Art Unit: 1746

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-3, 5-8, 10, 11, 18, 19, 21, 22 and 25-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over France (2,202,182, hereinafter France'182) in view of either Borroni et al. or Eichman et al.

Re claims 1, 21 and 28, France'182 is cited disclosing a detergent dispenser for a washing machine comprising a first cup (7) to dispense a powder and a second cup (6) to dispense a liquid with the second cup being removably mounted IN THE FIRST CUP that differs from the claims only in the recitation of the base. Borroni and Eichman are cited disclosing a dispenser for a liquid and a powder where there is provided a base. It therefore would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the device of France'182, to include a base as taught by either Borroni or Eichman, for the purpose of positively directing the detergent into the wash tub. Re claim 2, France'182 discloses the second cup being installed by the user. Re claim 3, France'182, as proposedly modified by either Borroni or Eichman, discloses the cups dispensing into the base and draining into the tub. Re claim 5, France'182 discloses the water flushing the detergent from the first and second cups. Re claims 6 and 25, although not specifically shown, the cup first cup must have an outlet to dispense the detergent into the tub. Re claim 7, France'182 discloses the siphon (19). Re claims 8 and 22, France'182 discloses the second cup nested in the first cup. Re claim 10, as proposedly modified, France'182 discloses the base having a bottom with the floor of the first cup spaced above the bottom of the base. Re claim 11, Eichman disclose the base having shoulders (136) for supporting the first cup. Re claims 18 and 27, Eichman discloses the removable first cup. Re claim 19, France'182 discloses the lip (16, 17) on the second cup. Re claim 26, France'182 discloses the outlet and siphon.

3. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the applied prior art as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Kiefer et al.

Claim 4 defines over the applied prior art only in the recitation of the grate. Kiefer discloses a dispenser having grate (50). It therefore would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the dispenser of France'182, to include a grate as taught by Kiefer, for the purpose of preventing clumps of detergent material from entering the tub.

4. Claims 9, 12-17, 20, 23, 24 29 and 30 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. In Ross, Vona, Jr., Cheok et al., EPO'651, France'697, Janke, Huber, Marks et al., Amberg et al., Sandrin, Plante and Smith et al., note the dispensing means.
